fares of the capital, yesterday, as the Eucharist procession was passing and near where King Alfonso and the queen were standing, according to peal from the decision of Judge Fair-bank, which leaves $24,750 to each of the grand children. The court held that the will as drawn, giving each of the grand children $25 should stand, although the attorney, who drew the document, and others, testified that Mrs. Allis intended the amount to be $25,000.REICHMAN RECEIVES million dollars.

The injuries of several will probably prove fatal. Nine men are missing.

DOMINION DAY CELEBRATION.

London, June 30.—With the venerable Lord Strathcona in the chair and His Royal Highness, the Duke of Connaught as the guest of honor, today's Dominion Day dinner in London proved to be a highly notable public function. The dinner was followed by a reception at the Imperial Institute, which was attended by nearly five thousand guests. Among them were many of the notable Canadian visitors to the coronation and eminent representatives of all the other parts of the empire.

OVER-SEA TROOPSSoldiers From Colonies of United Kingdom March in Great Parade
Before King George and Queen Mary.[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
London, June 30.—The picked troops who came here for the coronation from the Overseas—Tamilans and from India—were reviewed by King George at Buckingham Palace this morning.
The event concluded the long list of coronation ceremonies and festivities which have kept London astir since the beginning of June.The scene on the terrace was a very brilliant one, the European military and levee dress being quite outshone by the splendid apparel of the Indian princes. The great lawn below the terrace was a marvelous sight in red, yellow, green and blue. The Sikhs in Bengalee and other Indian contingents made a strong contrast to the khaki-clad troops from Canada, Australia and other parts of the empire.
At the word of command bayonets, rifles and carbines were grunted, and the contingents, having marched through some simple tactics and drill, shouldered their arms, filed past the royal canopy, saluting their Majesties and receiving medals commemorating the coronation.MYSTERY IN KILLING OF "MISER HERMIT"Rigid Investigation Into Terrible Crime That Looks Like End of Life-Long Personal Enmity.[BY UNITED PRESS.]
Sheboygan, June 30.—A rigid investigation was started today into the murder of John L. Sexton, the hermit of "Black Lake", whose body was found slain in his log cabin, three miles from this city. Sensational developments are expected. As yet no motive for the crime has been discovered, and the police are scattered about the room in which the body was found. Only an old fashioned silver watch is missing. It is believed that personal enmity or a desire for revenge must have caused the murder.YALE FRESHMEN WIN

Calgary, Alta., June 30.—The Calgary Industrial Exhibition, for which preparations have been making for nearly a year, was formally opened today.
The formal opening exercises will take place tomorrow in conjunction with the Canadian Day celebration and the exhibition will continue through the coming week. In many respects the exhibition this year is the most notable affair of its kind ever held in western Canada. The grounds at Victoria Park have been much improved and several new buildings erected. All departments of the fair are well filled with attractive exhibits.WIRE MERCHANTS TO

AGAINST CROOKSChief of Police Issues Statement Today To Be On Lookout For Criminals of Every Description.Following the arrest Wednesday night of Harvey P. Rutzen of Port Atkinson, and of Walter des Volgin last night for issuing bad checks, Chief of Police Appleby today issued a warning to the citizens and merchants against cashing checks, that are not bona fide, for strangers. The crowds which will be here before and after the big Fourth of July celebration, will naturally attract all classes of crooks and while the police, aided by special officers, will keep close track of the "dips" vigilance on the part of the citizens and visitors will be necessary, as it will be impossible for the officers to be in every place at the same time. The Chief gave out the following statement this morning:
"Two bad checks, passed by two strangers, last two days sets me guessing," said Chief Appleby today.
"From now on for a week we will have among us every form of crook and I would suggest that every precaution be taken. Bankers should have someone sleep in their banks; the postoffice should have a guard and hotels should have a floor walker. Business houses, especially jewelry and dry goods stores should have an inside watchman.
"Those things are done in the city and it is my belief, Janesville will be a city in every particular for the next week. We will police the city the best we can. Still I believe my suggestions should be taken seriously."

SWINDLER PLEADED HIS INNOCENCE IN MUNICIPAL COURT

Walter Des Voign, Arrested Last Night For Obtaining Money by False Pretenses, Will Be Examined July 6.

Walter Des Voign, alias George Muller, charged with obtaining money by false pretenses, was arraigned in municipal court this morning and pleaded not guilty, preliminary examination being set for July 6. Bail bonds were fixed at five hundred dollars which Des Voign was not able to furnish, and he was committed to the county jail.

Muller, it is alleged, secured five dollars from Leslie J. Davis, proprietor of a local garage, on a worthless check on the Dixon State National bank of Dixon, Ill. Muller, or Des Voign, represented himself as a garage owner in Dixon and said a car which he was driving had broken between here and Beloit and he desired to get some money. Des Voign did not have a check book with him and a check used by a local bank was used, the name of the local bank being scratched out and "Dixon State National Bank," written across the face of the check. Davis paid the amount asked for and afterward became suspicious of Des Voign. He telephoned a newspaper headquarters and a telephone message was sent to Dixon, where, it was learned, there was no bank such as was named on the check.

Patrolmen on duty were notified of the occurrence and a search for the man was begun. Meanwhile, Des Voign or Muller, had gone to the Northwestern depot and purchased a ticket for Madison there. He was about to step on the train at 11:05 when he was stopped by an officer, but as the description given did not exactly tally with that of Des Voign the man was allowed to go. However, a better description was given the officer later and he again started in pursuit. Des Voign was finally captured about twenty minutes after eleven as he was coming down West Milwaukee street and taken to the police station by Officer Patrick Manning.

The prisoner was searched at the police station and four dollars and thirty cents in money was found on his person. He denied that he had done anything wrong, but was positively identified by Mr. Davis, although Des Voign pretended that he had never seen Davis before. A deposit slip of the First National bank of Joliet, Ill., with an address written on the back was also found on Des Voign and this he attempted to show up. A couple of photo post cards, memoranda and other miscellaneous articles were taken from his person.

In court this morning Des Voign pleaded his innocence and attempted to arouse sympathy for himself and gain his freedom, but his efforts were futile. He claims he is a harmless man and had been in South Dakota. The story is to the effect that he was "broke" when he arrived in Janesville yesterday. The man went to the John C. Nichols insurance company and attempted to sue the mayor, but the mayor was absent at the time, returning later, found Des Voign talking to the foreman of the shop. Des Voign secured three dollars from the mayor on the strength of his claim of being a harmless man and of having done business with the firm from whom the Nichols company secures its leather. He also passed a check for $1 at the saloon of J. Flaherty and was given a dollar by Mr. Tuttle of the Janesville Hides and Leather company. Mr. Tuttle refusing to cash the check for $1 for the man, Des Voign was identified by Mr. Tuttle as the man to whom he gave the money. It was said that Des Voign attempted to secure money in this fashion at other places about town.

The handouts were used for the first time today in many months in taking Des Voign to the county jail as it was feared he might make a break for liberty. One of the cuffs was attached to Des Voign's wrist and the other cut to the wrist of a drunk.

It is said the police have a strong case against Des Voign.

The work of wrecking Foreman Reidy of Milwaukee in clearing up the wreckage after the destructive wreck at Harvard, Tuesday night, is still the subject of much comment around the yards and office. The promptness with which the work was completed aroused the interest of all those who were at all familiar with the circumstances and extent of the task, and speaks well for the skill of the veteran wrecking foreman. The work of removing the engine from its bed in the clay bank where it was partly buried beneath the baggage car, was especially noticeable. From the time of the arrival of the wrecking crew at the place of the wreck until the engine was placed on the track ready to be taken to Harvard, only one hour and fifteen minutes elapsed, and the work was done with only two hitches.

HOW TO THWART ALL ATTEMPTS OF LIGHT FINGERED ARTISTS

Spectators Are Warned Against Pickpockets During Days of Celebration.—Where To Carry Your Money.

During the days of the monster military celebration next week, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, it is very probable that there will be no lack of members of the order of pickpockets in the city and all precautions should be taken by persons in crowds during the days mentioned. Some important suggestions are made regarding the methods used by these artists in robbing people of valuables and how it is possible to circumvent their sneaking tactics.

One Safe Pocket. There is only one really safe pocket, and that is a pocket which few men, except experienced race goers, have their suits supplied with. It is a breast pocket inside the waistcoat, and it should have a buttoned flap, for without the button even this hiding place is unsafe.

The second best place for carrying money is the trouser pocket, especially if the owner is stout. And the left hand pocket is better than the right. A skillful thief, standing behind you, may insinuate his right hand into your right hand pocket easily, but the left comes awkwardly to him.

Work in Pairs. For the safety's sake the pickpocket seldom works single handed. He usually works with a couple of "acorns," who plant themselves in front of the intended victim. If the "job" is a difficult one, the carefully studied him at the critical moment, in order to distract his attention. This juggling is usually called "working the ramp."

A favorite trick in a dense crowd is to tip a man's hat over as though accidentally. His hands naturally fly up to set it right. Instead, they should go straight to the watch and money pocket.

If your hat is knocked off in a crowd, make sure your money pocket is safe before troubling about the hat. If you are quick enough you may catch a hand there.

Has Delicate Touch. The trained pickpocket's fingers are almost as delicate and sensitive as those of a skilled pianist. To become an expert demands long practice. But the expert could with or without the shelter of a newspaper, go through, one by one, every one of a man's twelve or sixteen pockets—except that one he adds the waistcoat—if he knew it to be worth his while. Three years ago a man was sentenced for training young pickpockets. He used clothes dumplings, with bells so arranged that they rang when the picking was climaxed done.

Has Prospects. Mrs. Murphy—Oh, dear, my brother-in-law, Pat Keegan, is pretty bad off. Mrs. Casey—Sure, he's good for a year yet. Mrs. Murphy—As long as that? Mrs. Casey—Yes; he's had four different doctors, and each one says this gives him three months to live.—Puck.

SUGGEST PLANS FOR JANESVILLE SCOUTS

Many Features Are Planned For Boys During Summer.—Bicycle Brigade.

—On Hike Tomorrow.

Members of the Boy Scouts, who went on the bicycle trip Wednesday night, enjoyed the experience that a plan is now on foot among those at the head of the scout movement, to organize a bicycle brigade among the scouts. This brigade will drill in the same way as the regular scouts and will practice formations and maneuvers. It is the intention of the leaders to have the boys ready, if possible, to take part in one of the parades on the Fourth.

Tomorrow afternoon, between four and six, the boys will be taken on another hike, this time on foot. The leader in charge will be Stanley Woodruff, and the boys will be taken for a tramp out through the country.

In order to develop all sides of the boys' nature, those who have charge have started a movement to have a Boy Scouts' orchestra. The boys have received this suggestion with great enthusiasm, and the effort will be made to be a success. In addition to this, the Spanish War Veterans have offered to furnish the boys with uniforms and instruments if they will form a life and drum corps; this plan has also been well received, and is being given careful consideration.

The scout movement is spreading rapidly among the boys and new recruits are applying constantly for admission, and all are working diligently to perfect themselves in the simple requirements necessary for admission. Altogether the affairs of the organization are moving finely, and Secretary Woodruff and his colleagues are to be congratulated on the success of their efforts.

Paul De Longpre, Artist, Dead.

Noted Painter of Flowers Succumbs at His California Home.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 30.—Paul De Longpre, the noted painter of flowers, died at his home at Hollywood, Cal., late last evening.

Born in Paris in 1855, De Longpre was one of ten children who had few early advantages.

He married at a little over eighteen years of age. Several years afterward he met with financial reverses by the failure of the largest Paris bank, and he came to New York to begin life all over again.

He risked his all to make his first exhibition, consisting only of flower paintings. His success was immediate, and in a few years more he was enabled to move with his family to southern California.

In recent years more than 25,000 art students, in the United States alone, copied the studies of De Longpre, and there has been published more than enough of his pictures to put two in each home in this country.

FLOWERS AS SMUGGLING AID.

Customs Men Who Did Not Inspect Decorated Coat Lapels.

New York, June 30.—Collector Loeb is about to quiz several customs inspectors who are supposed to have connived at the jewel smuggling case involving Nathan Allen of Kenosha, Wis., and John R. Collins, president of the Southern Coal company of Memphis, Tenn.

A connection with plant customs hands, alleged to have been perpetrated through a New York banker and deputy in the government service, it was learned how the deputy managed to indicate to favored travelers the "trustees" who could be depended upon to pass their trunks without inspection. It now develops that the trustees were what was known as the "flower squad." In the lapel of each "trustee" was a flower and the passengers were told to approach men thus decorated. It was a simple scheme and worked to perfection.

Even the honest inspectors did not suspect the squad members, putting down the fact that they always wore flowers to a fault.

ANNUAL GOLF EVENT TO BE AT KENOSHA

LOCAL ENTHUSIASTS TO COMPETE IN AMATEUR MATCHES FOR TROPHY.

PRIZES ARE MANY

Eleventh Annual Amateur Championship Under Wisconsin State Golf Association—Excellent Program for Week.

With the chances good for a representative team from the local club being entered, the eleventh annual amateur championship matches under the direction of the Wisconsin State Golf Association will be held August 2, 3, 4 and 5, on the course of the Kenosha Country Club.

On Wednesday August 2, the Yule Cup contest will take place. The cup for this contest was donated by George Yule, Sr., of Kenosha and the idea was of his work out. Any club that has a member of the W. S. G. A. and that has paid the club dues for the year 1910, is entitled to enter a team to contest for this cup. In this contest there is no requirement of entrance fees.

The tournament proper or that one known as the eleventh annual amateur tournament of the W. S. G. A. will take up the time of the remaining three days. Any person who is a member of any club of the W. S. G. A. and is a bona fide resident of Wisconsin over sixteen years of age is eligible to enter.

Excepting what few local rules may be announced by the tournament committee on the first day, the competition will be played under the rules of golf as announced by the association.

The winner of the association will be the amateur champion of Wisconsin for the year and the club will be the custodian of the cup until the next annual competitive contest. The person who wins the competition will be presented with a gold medal and the runner up will receive a medal of silver.

The plan of the match will consist of a qualifying round of eighteen holes match play, with sixteen to qualify for the championship cup. The second sixteen to qualify for the President's cup, the third sixteen to qualify for the Director's cup. The sixteen in each play shall then compete in match play, eighteen holes, except finals, which shall be thirty-six holes.

Those players who are defeated in the first round for the championship cup are to play down at a match play for the President's cup. The same is true of those defeated in the first round of the match for the President's cup, as they will play down at match play for the Director's cup. Those who are defeated in the latter competition will play for the Treasurer's cup. The winners of all the flights in the play for these several cups will be rewarded with silver cups and a cup will be given for the low score in the qualifying rounds.

It is said that there has been a very good line of prizes offered as consolation, choice score, age limit, two-ball foursome and bogey competition and for those failing to qualify in their respective classes in case four or more fail to qualify.

The entries for the matches will close at six o'clock in the evening, August first at the office of the secretary-treasurer of the association, Chester D. Barnes, who is located in the First National bank building at Kenosha. Each contestant is required to pay an entrance fee of $2.50 which will cover all of the special events as well as the championship. All entries must be made through the secretary of the several clubs on blanks furnished by the association and in these must be included the club handicap of the player.

The officers of the club are as follows: W. L. Yule (President); H. D. Plimpton (Vice President); Chester D. Barnes, Secretary-Treasurer; Directors: C. W. Allen, Kenosha; J. M. Hixon, La Crosse; H. Voss, Milwaukee; F. M. Wooten, Madison; H. B. Hadfield, Milwaukee; C. S. Dickinson, Appleton; C. W. Kent, Sheboygan; S. D. Janyet, Fond du Lac; A. P. Burnham, Wauwatosa; C. C. Chase, Oshkosh; L. C. Annual Contests of Amateur Athletic Union Opened At Forbes Field, Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 30.—By long odds the greatest national athletic representation of recent years was to be seen today at Forbes Field, the opening of the Pittsburgh baseball club. The occasion for the gathering was the opening of the membership contests, both junior and senior, to decide the national track and field championships of the Amateur Athletic Union.

The best performers of the East, including the stars of the New York A. C. and the Irish-American A. C., are among the entrants, while the far West is also well represented by the crack athletes of the Olympic A. C. of San Francisco and the Seattle Athletic club.

Today was given over to the junior contests with the senior events to follow tomorrow. The events include running races from 100 yards to five miles, including high and low hurdles, jumping, running hop, step and jump, throwing hammer, and "fifty-yards," discus, shotput, and javelin.

To Race up and Down the Hudson. New York, June 30.—All arrangements have been completed for the third annual motor boat race of the New York Motor Boat Club from New York to Albany and return, which is one of the leading long-distance races in the country. Don't Look Like Murderers. How the alleged Camorrista, now being tried at Viterbo, Italy, look is being described by a correspondent: "The man in the lone cage was speaking. 'Who is it?' I asked my neighbor. 'Who, Abbatemaggio—the assassin?' So this self-proclaimed, gentlemanly criminal turned ex-Camorrist, the ex-convict turned gentleman, I looked at the thirty-six occupants of the cage—they were, with few exceptions, like Abbatemaggio—well dressed, well-mannered, middle class people, such as you may meet any day at any of the better restaurants in a prosperous Italian town. But for the cage it would have been pardonable to mistake the caged murderers and thieves for the jurymen—and the unfortunate jurymen, who have to sacrifice their whole time for nine or ten months for 3s. 4d. a day, for the accused Camorrista."

MAYOR DUMAS HELD BY THE GRAND JURY

BANDIT ACCUSED EXECUTIVE OF OFFERING HIM $300 TO BURN POST OFFICE.

SALOON MEETING IS TOLD

Martin Behan, Who Was Captured While Committing a Robbery, Tells of Planning Crime When With Dr. D. P. Dumas.

Bemidji, Minn., June 30.—Dr. D. P. Dumas, mayor of Cass Lake, Minn., was held to await the action of the grand jury at his preliminary hearing for complicity in the arson plot at Pupoksy. The testimony given by Martin Behan, the captured Pupoksy bandit, was sufficient evidence, according to Court Commissioner Simons, to hold the doctor for the next grand jury.

Behan testified that Dumas had offered him and a man named Davis $500 if they would undertake the job of burning a building at Pupoksy belonging to a man named Smythe.

The bail was fixed at $10,000, which was furnished by Edward Dumas, father of the accused mayor, and C. M. Johnson of Cass Lake, Minn.

Details of Confession.
Behan testified that he, Dr. Dumas, Mike Davis and R. E. Smythe, owner of the Pupoksy postoffice building, met in a saloon on June 14 at Bemidji, Smythe, according to Behan, asked Davis if he would burn the building at Pupoksy, and Davis said he would do the job if there was enough money in it. To this Dumas is alleged to have replied that there would be enough money all right. Smythe, it was said, was to pay $300 to Dr. Dumas and he was to pay Behan and Davis that sum when the job was done.

Both Dr. Dumas and Smythe spoke of blowing the safe and taking money, stumps and papers to Dumas after the building had been burned, according to the witness.

Behan also identified a large revolver which he said Dumas had given Davis during the conference at the saloon.

In describing how the attempted robbery was carried out, Behan said that on June 15 he and Davis met in a Bemidji saloon, where William Munhall, also under arrest in connection with the alleged arson conspiracy, was tending bar. They were driven to within one mile of Pupoksy by "Doc" Adams, who was sent back to Bemidji.

Details of Robbery.
Behan then told how he and Davis went to the postoffice building and just after entering heard a noise and saw a rifle in the hands of one of the deputies. They tried to get away and he was shot in one leg. Davis escaped and has not been captured.

The complaint against Dr. Dumas was amended so that the physician is now accused of having furnished the explosives to those alleged to have been engaged to burn the Pupoksy postoffice building.

CUMMINGS FIGHTS RECIPROCITY.

Tells Senate Canada Might Ignore Half of Proposed Pact.

Washington, June 30.—Senator Cummins continued his argument against the Canadian reciprocity bill in the senate, but did not conclude. He attacked the measure not only from the standpoint of its alleged injustices and political inexpediency, but on the ground that it was not properly drawn as a tariff law.

If passed in its present form, Senator Cummins declared, the agreement would give Canada the option of recognizing one-half of it without accepting it all. This statement, explained in detail by the Iowa senator, held the attention of the senate, many members questioning the interpretation thus put upon the bill as sent to congress by the president.

Senator Cummins declared the passage of the bill would be followed by a storm of disapproval, against which the Republican party could not stand.

FACTORIES TO CLOSE DURING CELEBRATION

NEARLY ALL MANUFACTURING PLANTS WILL BE CLOSED DURING ENTIRE THREE DAYS OF DEMONSTRATIONS.

BUSINESS SUSPENDED

As Far As Possible in Janesville Factories On Account of Military Celebration—Will Close Week.

With few exceptions the shops and factories throughout the city will be closed during the three days of the military celebration. Work is now practically suspended in the factory of the Janesville Machine Company, for the purpose of making the semi-annual inventory, and very little will be done there until after the first week of next month.

Mr. Waterson of the Lay-Waterson Shoe Company, states that as far as is practicable their entire force will be closed during the three days of the celebration, beginning next Monday. After that time the work of taking inventory will require a few days and then work will be resumed with increased energy. The force of about forty employees will be about doubled, affording employment for several experienced hands, and increasing the output to about twice that of the present, to supply the increasing demands felt by their customers.

In the Janesville Shirt and Overall factory work will be suspended on Tuesday and Wednesday, July 4 and 5. On account of a rush of business at the present time the management of the factory considered it necessary to shorten the vacation as much as possible, and a large majority of the employees voted in favor of the plan as outlined to them by the manager to return to work on Monday and have the following two days Company will be closed for the big drive.

Clothes Company Rushed.

The Calver Brothers clothing company finds it necessary to continue work during the entire time, as far as is possible, in order to attend to shipments, which must be made to shops, pending receipt of a large shipment of radiators delayed in shipment, which are expected today.

At the Monitor Automobile Company's plant operations will be suspended during the first three days of the week. The factory force will be free for the entire program and only the office force will be at work.

The Parker Pen Company closes down tomorrow afternoon and the entire number of hands will not reassemble until next Thursday morning, July 6th.

The Janesville Carriage Company will be closed for the 3rd, 4th and 5th.

Week For Furniture Factory.

At the Hanson Furniture factory work will be suspended as far as possible, for a week beginning tonight. Tomorrow will be held their annual picnic, which is given to the employees and their families. The event will be held at Crystal Springs Park and will be the first of the week's gala events for the Hanson hands.

In the afternoon the Wood-carvers will pit their strength on the ball diamond against the Gazette Printing Company's nine. It marks the initial appearance of the printers in the Commercial League, and they have chosen their best material in a hope to administer defeat to the Hanson men.

During this and the coming week inventory will be taken at the Hanson factory as this marks the end of their fiscal year.

Closed Last Night.

At the Rock River Woolen Company's plant work was suspended last night and a vacation was declared until next Wednesday morning, giving the employees nearly a week, and plenty of time to get ready for the celebration.

The Hanson and Editha Hanson Company, the Wisconsin Carriage Company, the Rock River Machine Company, and the Lewis Knitting Company, all will close their factories for the entire three days of the military demonstrations. This will make four days in all of vacation and in some cases Saturday afternoon will be thrown in as an extra half day in which the employees and employers, as well as many have time to make all necessary preparations for the big event.

Monday and Tuesday.

Monday and Tuesday and possibly Wednesday will be the days off for the hands at the Thoroughgood and Company plant.

At the Victor Porch Shade factory, where they are in the midst of their rush season, it will be possible to give only the Fourth and Fifth. They will close down Monday afternoon at four o'clock and resume work Thursday morning. Here also the fiscal year closes and they are in the midst of inventory taking.

At the New Doty Manufacturing plant the Fourth will be the regular holiday.

The John Nichols Harness factory will be closed during the days of the celebration, July 2nd, 4th and 5th.

WESTERN DAKOTA IS VISITED BY DROUGHT OF GREAT SEVERITY

William Humphrey Formerly of Rock County, Now of Faith, S. Dakota; Reports Unprecedented Dry Period.

Drought of an unprecedented length and severity is upon the entire western part of South Dakota, according to the accounts told by William Humphrey, who is here to spend the summer months and who resided twenty miles west of Faith in the northwestern part of the state.

No water is the land that the seed of winter grains which was sown last fall are in the ground now unharmed. Weeds which have never been known to fall are now nearly dry and known to have never before within the memory of the residents of the section have run dry, are without the nearest suggestion of water.

Wells Run Dry.

Two wells on Mr. Humphrey's claim were fast dribbling in their water supply when he and his wife left a week ago. During the spring he had been able to draw two barrels of water a day but now they fall to give half as much. "The Missouri river which in ordinary times is a fair sized stream, is now a dry ditch, for the first time since the country was settled. Over creeks and streams which have never been known to run dry, are in the same condition.

"For eighteen months," said Mr. Humphrey, "there has not been a drop of rain fall out there, as far as I can learn, and I would agree to that."

Absolutely no vegetation is to be seen in that part of the state. The condition, according to Mr. Humphrey, is similar throughout the entire section of South Dakota west of the Missouri river. East of the river a very little rain has fallen this year and wheat and small grain stands a few inches high. There will be about one fourth of what it usually is.

Move From State.

On account of the unprecedented drought families are moving out of the section. Most of them are going east, either across the river into eastern South Dakota, or to town or Minnesota, where they can be sure of enough moisture to grow their crops. It is not unusual now, for five or six parties to leave Faith daily for a more amiable climate.

Combined with the excessive dryness at this time of the year come the hot winds. On the day that Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey left for the east they found the hot wind blowing from the south for about six miles and Mr. Humphrey was nearly overcome. Thirst and fatigue are caused by winds which are enough to cause death if one is not relieved by water and shelter. Horsemasters are likewise affected and many are overcome if not cared for. The thermometer registers various figures above the hundred mark, some claiming that the mark is 130 and others that 120 was the point reached inside their homes. And with the intense heat is the wind which is enough to drive the breath from one's body.

No Vegetation.

Crops in the section around Faith were almost an entire failure last year and this year they will not have enough to eat them. A failure. Some corn fodder in some places were harvested, but there was not enough to supply the needs in the section.

North Dakota, according to the reports, is not suffering. On the contrary crops are first class this season with every indication of an abundant harvest. Corn and grain have fallen there, enough at least, to grow the grain.

Notwithstanding the present condition of the soil and climate around Faith, Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey intend to return to their claim after spending the summer in Janesville. They formerly lived in Rock County, in the vicinity of Lake Koshkonong.

"No," said the doctor, who talked more at his ease with the detective than he would have dreamed of doing with any of his fashionable patients. "It's the end."

"Well," rejoined the sleuth, "I'm glad to hear you say so. I don't mind telling you I made me a little suspicious this evening. I must say that for an honest man his attitude was a little queer."

"In what way?"

"Well," said Britz, "he wouldn't let me see a bit of paper that might have helped me a whole lot in this matter; and just for a moment I began to wonder whether he was an eager to have the Millionaire mystery solved as he pretended to be."

"There's no pretense about Bruxton Sands," said Fitch very positively. "He does want this thing straightened out, and he wouldn't do anything in any way, if he could help it, to hinder you."

Britz then told the physician how fully how Bruxton Sands had been in regard to the note the Millionaire himself had taken from one of the Hindoo burglars.

"I'll admit I seemed strange," said Fitch. "But if you go on the assumption there is anything wrong behind it, you'll lose your point. Sands is as square as they make 'em."

"You don't think, then," asked the detective, "it is possible his infatuation for Mrs. Missioner would lead him to do anything to queer his rival?"

"Most assuredly not," replied Fitch. "In the first place, he is not infatuated. Bruxton Sands is genuinely in love with Doris Missioner, and he is the kind of man who knows the sort of woman he wants. In the next place he wouldn't dream of doing anything underhand even if he saw that the other fellow was undoubtedly winning out. He always plays the game."

"Well, maybe he does," said Britz; "but, from what I've observed in my journey through life, this love game is one that is played without any rules. I've known men who would take a million if it was handed to them on a platter, yet who go pretty close to a mix-up with the Grand Jury to cut out a fellow who was after the same girl."

"You talk as if your experience in the heart line were all second-hand," said Fitch, smiling.

"Never been in love in my life and no expert to be," said Britz. "But I have eyes in my head and ears behind them. I also know what women can do to a man's common sense even when they don't know they're doing it. The lady who gets the loot isn't always a party to the crime."

"Well," responded Fitch, "I won't undertake to put my experience against yours; but there's nothing of that sort in this case. Sands loves Mrs. Missioner about as much as a man can. He was fond of her before her marriage, and most of us thought he'd win her over."

"But he knows Griswold is trying to win her over," said Britz, "and if he has any reason to think the other fellow has a good chance he might be tempted to tip him down and out, even if he had to go to such lengths as taking the Millionaire diamonds, and then throwing suspicion on Griswold."

"Not a hoof!" exclaimed Fitch. "I tell you, the man is dead square. He wouldn't do anything of that kind if Mrs. Missioner were the only woman in the world, as she really is, so far as he is concerned. You don't know Bruxton Sands the way I do. He may be a bit of a conversationalist, but he's long on honor. He plays the game right on the gridiron with out any money business on the side, and you can just bank on that."

Britz returned to his play and drink.

slowly, meditatively, until the cool chilled his nose. Then he sat, the tumbler firmly down on the bar, faced Fitch, and said with an air of finality:

"If that's the case, Griswold's the man! He may have had assistance from Blodgett, but I doubt it. He's too foxy to trust his neck to a servant. As for all, I thought he might have turned the trick, but he didn't, because if he had, he and all the rest of that Calcutta bunch would be well on their way toward their heavenly temples by this time. There is now only Mr. Curtis Griswold to consider."

Fitch looked at him with a perplexed air. He had his own thoughts in regard to the identity of the thief, but he recognized the detective's superior ability in solving the mystery and, being a scientist, he had an open mind.

"What causes you to suspect him?" he asked.

"I've had my eyes on that young man for some time," Britz said. "There were two or three things connected with the arrest of Miss Holcomb that didn't please me a little bit. I didn't like the satisfaction he showed when suspicion was directed toward her."

"Did he seem pleased?" inquired Fitch.

"More than pleased—he seemed relieved," answered the detective. "Maybe Donnelly and Carson did some real work, after all, without knowing it. If they hadn't arrested Miss Holcomb, Griswold mightn't have shown his hand so easily."

"Have you any other evidence?" asked the doctor. He appeared to be gratified by the trend of the detective's thoughts.

"Several things," said Britz. "One of our Wall Street men tells me half a dozen inquiries about Griswold have been sent to financial agencies lately. I had that end worked up, and I found out Griswold had been bumped by a bear raid."

"Hurt much?"

"Pretty badly. He tried hard to sell a block of suburban real estate soon after that."

"These things are only straws, however," said the doctor. "Of course, we'll have to have much more substantial evidence before we can do anything."

"Well, for one thing," returned Britz, "I expect to know in a few hours just where the diamonds are. At any rate, how they were taken out of the city, if they are not in New York. I've got a hundred men working the hotels to find out, and if you'll come down to Headquarters with me in a little while you can see the result."

The detective stopped short in his words as Curtis Griswold entered the bar. The clubman went to the cigar counter, lighted a cigarette, and by the impatient gesture with which he snatched it from his lips and threw it to the floor, he betrayed the fact that he had applied the flame to the cork tip. His manner was nervous, his face slightly drawn, and his hand trembled as he took another cigarette from the case and once more puffed at it in his staccato fashion. He did not see Britz and Fitch, as they were at the other end of the bar. The detective's back was turned toward him, while the doctor's face was partly hidden by the Headquarters man's head. Fitch looked over Britz's shoulder at Griswold, and Britz himself watched the clubman's reflection in a mirror.

"Get me a messenger!" Griswold said to the bartender, and as the man pulled the crank of a call box, the clubman took a card from his pocket and wrote a few lines hastily upon it. Then he called for an envelope, and when the messenger came, he handed it to him with a bank note, with a few words spoken in a low tone. The messenger gone, Griswold called for a brandy-and-soda, gulped it down in a way that showed his state of nervous excitement and, still without seeing the doctor or the detective, hurried out of the barroom.

Britz gripped the doctor's arm. "Go after that boy!" he said. "Find out where he is going, and join me at Headquarters. Make it quick, doc!"

Fitch hastened in pursuit of the messenger. Britz walked with quick strides to the subway, where he boarded a local for Ilwaco street.

The physician's pursuit of the district messenger who had carried the note from Griswold ended at the Thirty-third Street station of the Sixth Avenue elevated railway. All Fitch wanted to know was the destination of the note. Fitch, though an amateur, had acquired so much skill from association with the famous Headquarters man in efforts to free his sweetheart that it required no prompting to look over the boy's shoulder as he stopped to buy a ticket. While fishing in his pocket for a grubby nickel, the messenger momentarily held the envelope in such a position that Fitch was able to read both name and address. The doctor hastily jotted both on the margin of a newspaper, and then he crossed to the downtown station, and in 20 minutes knocked at the door of the detective's room in Police Headquarters.

"This must be the woman," he heard Britz say to Lawson, as he entered after a sharp "Come in!" The detective's finger rested on a name in a list of a dozen or more Lawson had supplied.

"Hello, doc!" said Britz. "I guess we've found her. These are the full names of all the Millionaire registered in New York hotels, and my man reminded me."

Isaiah's Prophecy Concerning Sennacherib. Isa. xxxvii:34-38.

Golden Text—God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. Ps. xli:1.

(1.) Verse 14.—What letter was it that Hezekiah spread before the Lord?

(2.) Is it the privilege of every man to spread all his letters, including those which give him trouble, before the Almighty God, and if so, what is the advantage in doing it?

(3.) What if any advantage is there in telling our troubles to God in the house of the Lord, over doing so in our own homes?

(4.) Verses 15-20.—Hezekiah tells God in much detail the nature of his troubles. Now what good is it to do that, seeing God knows all about it in any event?

(5.) Why does God not know all about our heartaches and our needs before we tell Him, in the same way as He knows afterward?

(6.) What is the advantage of urging God by all the argument we can?

AFTER 7 YEARS SUFFERING

I Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Waurika, Okla.—"I had female troubles for seven years, was all run down, and so nervous I could not do anything. The doctors treated me for different things but did me no good. I got so bad that I could not sleep day or night. While in this condition I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and began its use and wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice. In a short time I had gained my average weight and am now strong and well."

Another Grateful Woman.
Huntington, Mass.—"I was in a nervous, run-down condition and for three years could find no help."

"I owe my present good health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Hiram Purdier which I believe saved my life."

"My doctor knows what helped me and does not say one word against it."

Mrs. MARI JANETTE BATES, Box 134, Huntington, Mass.

Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has cured many cases of female ill, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, and nervous prostration.

think of an Hezekiah does here, to answer our prayers?

(7.) What effect does the degree of our vehemence, or the extent of our desire, have upon God in answering our prayers?

(8.) Why did not God answer Hezekiah direct, instead of through Isaiah?

(10.) Apparently some men with equal goodness are better able to receive detailed messages from God than others. If this is so, why is it?

(11.) May we rest with absolute certainty in the assurance that having told God our needs, He will supply them? Why?

(12.) What is the reason for believing that no person and nothing can bring ultimate injury to a man, or a cause trusting in God?

(13.) Why are men so foolish as to think they can prevail against God?

(14.) Verse 29.—Why does God take injury done to His people as done against Himself?

(15.) Would you go so far as to say that every hurt by word or deed, done against a child of God, is done against God? Give your reasons.

(16.) Give an example of how God restrains the wicked as stated here, "I will put my hook into thy nose, and my bridle in the lips."

(17.) Verses 30-32.—As an example of how God rules, and overrules, think of your own blessings, and say how many of them are a result of your own efforts and how many from causes over which you have had no control?

(18.) Verses 33-37.—What means did God take to prevent Sennacherib from capturing Jerusalem?

(19.) How did the angels of the Lord slay probably 185,000 of the soldiers of the Assyrian army in one night? (Give some Bible examples of how such things have been done.)

(20.) Verse 38.—To what extent is it a rule that men get what they would like to give others and that "They who use the sword perish with the sword?" (This is one of the questions that may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

For the Thin and Bloodless!

The thin and bloodless, with pale cheeks, white lips and faint, angular physique, of this community have been much interested in the reports of physicians and others concerning the effectiveness of the treatment for increasing the red and white corpuscles of the blood, thus adding color and weight with its accompanying vigor to the depleted system. A gain of from ten to thirty pounds is not at all unusual where the treatment is regularly used for several months, while the color improves almost from the beginning. Most good food supplies it in the form of three-grain hypomelane tablets, put up in sealed packets with directions for home use. Its action aids assimilation and absorption of the food eaten very promptly.
